AUSTRIA'S SUBJECTS PRESENT PROBLEMS

How to Deal with Ten Nationalities Under Alien Law Studied.

The knottiest problem resulting from the declaration of war against Austria-Hungary, according to members of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, consists of protecting the ten nationalities listed under Austria, but not sympathetic with Austria, from unjust oppression in this country through the alien enemy laws.

The Sabath resolution excluding Bohemians, Moravians, Slovaks, Ruthenians, Poles, Serbs, Croats, Slovenes, Italians and Rumanians from the alien enemy restrictions may be passed, it was said. But trouble will follow the effort of Mr. Sabath to make all these nationalities subject to the draft and consequent military service. It is predicted the State Department and the War Department will try to block this section.

Chairman Flood announced another meeting of the committee for Tuesday morning, after yesterday's long secret session failed to settle the question. The Council of National Defense has asked to have a representative present at this meeting.

Working with the committee are Counsellor Polk, of the State Department; Assistant Attorney General O'Brien, for the Department of Justice; Maj. Stephen M. Bensall, for the War College, and Representative Sabath, author of the resolution.

DANCE TO DEPICT PERIODS OF STATE

Mississippi Centennial to Have Novelty on Program.

The State of Mississippi will celebrate, tomorrow, its centenary as a State of the Federal Union. On December 10, 1817, it was merged from a territory to Statehood, with Jackson as the capital. De Soto was probably the first white man of importance to enter its borders, crossing in 1539 the northeastern part of the State. In 1673, Joliet and Marquette explored the Mississippi River as far south as the mouth of the Arkansas and in 1681 La Salle, sailing to the Gulf, took possession of the country in the name of France.

In 1699, Iverville established the first settlement of importance near the present site of Biloxi, which city was founded about ten years later and was, for a short time, the seat of government. In 1763, Natchez was established by Iverville and Bienville. The early history of the country was marked by many Indian wars.

After the American Revolution, under French and Spanish rule, the territory was ceded to the United States by the treaty of 1795, and in 1817 the final act of Statehood was accomplished.

The event will be widely celebrated throughout the State and the Mississippi Society of Washington will also observe the anniversary by a meeting at Confederate Memorial Hall, with Representative W. W. Venable and former Senator Jos. W. Bailey as principal speakers, to be followed by a reception and a pageant illustrating the history of the State.

The dances, symbols of the different periods of occupation, have been prepared by Miss Cecil B. Norton, with Miss Lieberman as pianist.

PHILIPPINES NEED MORE TRADE SHIPS

Commercial Delegation Comes Here to Seek Government's Aid.

Messrs. Samuel Ferguson, president of the Philippine National Bank; Ramon Fernandez, a wealthy shipowner and president of the Fernandez Brothers firm of Manila, and Maj. William H. Anderson, commander of the Philippine Commercial Delegation to the United States, now in Washington, to discuss with the Shipping Board the question of transportation between the United States and our possessions over the Pacific.

A member of the delegation stated yesterday that the crisis of transportation is becoming more and more acute in the Philippines. There are at present in the ports and warehouses of Philippine farmers about 200,000 tons of sugar which cannot be brought over on account of lack of transportation. After the next harvest, which is to begin very soon, this amount is estimated to reach 400,000 tons, thus making the problem more complicated for the sugar interests in the archipelago.

Up to the present, the American market had been the almost exclusive one for the Philippine sugar, which is one of the principal products of that land. When the war between the United States and Germany broke out negotiations to grant to the insular government authorization to retain the German vessels seized within the jurisdiction of the islands, were opened. But only seven small boats have been ordered to remain there.

RATE HEARING POSTPONED.

The hearing in the proposed increase in rates by railroads in Eastern, Western and Southern territories, set for December 17, was yesterday postponed indefinitely by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The postponement was allowed at the request of Western carriers. The Western carriers were prompted to this action by the recommendations of the commission to Congress and the uncertainty as to action by that body.

CZAR'S FLIGHT NOT CREDITED BY OFFICIALS

State Department Refuses to Believe Message Sent by Consul.

An unverified rumor was received at the State Department yesterday from the American consul at Tiflis to the effect that Nicholas Romanoff, ex-Czar of Russia, had succeeded in escaping from his place of exile at Tobolsk. Officials of the State Department placed little credence in the report.

An unconfirmed report was also received here that Vladivostok has fallen into the hands of the Bolsheviks. It is admitted at the State Department that large supplies of all sorts are concentrated at that point.

Vladivostok has been in the hands of a quasi-revolutionary committee for some time, but the news of the condition of the city has been such as to prompt American officials to permit Russian supplies to be forwarded there. If Bolshevik troops now have control of the eastern outlet of the trans-Siberian Railway, plans which promised much may have to be abandoned.

Siberia has been reported here as among the elements which will not agree to Bolshevik domination in Russia, and a separate peace with Germany. It was mentioned by a Russian official here as one of the great sources of hope for the restoration of order and the shattering of the German peace plans. It is now admitted that if the Bolshevik troops have been able to extend their control to the far eastern terminus of the Siberian road, Siberia will be almost powerless in any counter-revolutionary effort.

BAKERS' LICENSE RULING.

The baking industry of the country, through an announcement last night by the United States Food Administration, is advised that bakers who have applied for licenses, but have not received them, may continue to manufacture bread after December 10, the date when the license ruling becomes effective.

All manufacturers of bread products, however, who are included in the Presidential proclamation of November 7, are subject to the license regulations whether they have received licenses or not.

LABOR QUESTION FOR RAILROADS AGAIN LOOMING

Legislators Differ on What Course They Must Take.

The labor question will prove almost as difficult of solution as the money problem in connection with government operation of railways during the war, according to Representative John J. Eech, of Wisconsin, tonight. He has been working on the Newlands railroad investigating committee, and is a member of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee.

Martin Madden, veteran representative from Illinois, believes the money angle the most difficult, and the one the government should tackle first.

"Liberty loans have practically closed the money markets to the railroads," he pointed out. "And war taxes have eaten up their old dividends. These things being true I think we should appropriate any sum, even up to $2,000,000,000 to make them efficient for war uses. I would agree to government control or operation during the war, but I certainly do not believe in the proposal for government ownership."

"Government ownership of telephone and telegraph lines," he added, "likewise is not feasible. Our committee on postoffice and post roads has voted down the Postmaster General's suggestion several times. I am not willing to turn over the highly scientific telephone and telegraph business of the country to politicians. I have seen too much of government processes."

Sentiment last night had crystallized in agreement on the Interstate Commerce Commission recommendation for immediate unified railway operation.

Congressmen who would not otherwise have supported government operation have been won over by reports of railway congestion and car shortage in their own districts. Representative Frank Doremus, of Michigan, points to Detroit as an example of railway inefficiency. Conditions in the motor mart, he said, are "intolerable."

"In my own city of Detroit," he said, "people are now suffering for want of coal. My investigation has satisfied me that the primary causes of the coal shortage are congestion of transportation and conflicting railroad embargoes."

"And if things are what they are now, what will they be in six months, when the war is well under way?" he asked.
